SENIOR FELLOWS

THOMAS D. WALDHAUSER
GENERAL
UNITED STATES MARINE CORPS
(RETIRED)

Former Commander
United States Africa Command

WEEKS 2 AND 5 SENIOR FELLOW

Thomas Waldhauser is employed as a Senior Fellow for the National Defense University in support of the Pinnacle, Capstone, and Keystone programs.

A native of South Saint Paul, Minnesota, General Thomas D. Waldhauser (Ret.) was commissioned in 1976 as an Infantry Officer in the U.S. Marine Corps. Throughout his 43 years of military service, General Waldhauser has led at all levels, including Commanding Officer of 15th Marine Expeditionary Unit (SOC); Commanding General USMC Warfighting Lab; Deputy Commander USMC Combat Development Command; Chief of Staff, U.S. Special Operations Command; Commanding General, First Marine Division; and Deputy Commandant for Plans, Policies, and Operations at Headquarters Marine Corps. He has participated in Operation Desert Storm, Desert Shield, Enduring Freedom, and Iraqi Freedom.

As the Commanding General for both I Marine Expeditionary Forces (I MEF) and U.S. Marine Forces Central Command 1 (MARCENT), General Waldhauser led both wide-ranging organizations simultaneously, and was the last general officer to do so before the role was restructured into 2 separate general officer billets.

He was then selected to serve as Senior Military Assistant to the Secretary of Defense, operating in a highly trusted capacity to advise and shape policies and operational strategies impacting the entire DoD organization.

Subsequently, General Waldhauser was appointed Director of Joint Force Development (J7) for the Joint Chiefs of Staff. During his tenure at the J7, General Waldhauser led the development of joint operations strategies and partnered with U.S. congressional members to develop the Goldwater-Nichols Act Reform.

Prior to retiring from the military in 2019, General Waldhauser was the Combatant Commander for U.S. Africa Command (AFRICOM), where he led all aspects of U.S. security operations across the entire continent of Africa, spanning 53 nations. In this role, General Waldhauser developed overarching strategies to promote defense, diplomacy, and development throughout the region. Often working with African-nation Presidents and senior officials, General Waldhauser cultivated relationships supporting allied nations while solidifying the U.S. as a preferred partner.

General Waldhauser's post-military career includes a position on the Board of Governors for the Marine Corps Heritage Foundation, as well as his position as a Fellow at National Defense University where he assists with the CAPSTONE course for newly promoted Brigadier Generals and Rear Admirals.

General Waldhauser is a graduate of Bemidji State University and the National War College with an MS in National Security Strategies. His military awards include Defense Superior Service Medal (x3), Legion of Merit with Valor, Bronze Star, Meritorious Service Medal (x4), Navy Achievement Medal (x2), and a Combat Action Ribbon.

Air Commodore Nikki Thomas OBE MA BEng (Hons) RAF

Nikki Thomas joined the Royal Air Force as a Navigator in 2000 after graduating with an Aeronautical Engineering degree from Loughborough University. Posted to the Tornado GR4 in 2003, she completed numerous operational deployments in Iraq and Afghanistan and qualified as a Ground and Airborne Forward Air Controller and Qualified Weapons Instructor.

Leaving the cockpit in 2010, she moved to the Ministry of Defence managing UK Military Flying Training capability before being selected as Staff Officer to the Assistant Chief of the Air Staff. Graduating the Advanced Command and Staff Course in 2013 with an MA in Defence Studies, Nikki was promoted back into the Ministry of Defence as part of the Carrier Enabled Power Projection team, developing C4ISR, doctrine and logistic enablers and leading on US-UK interoperability.

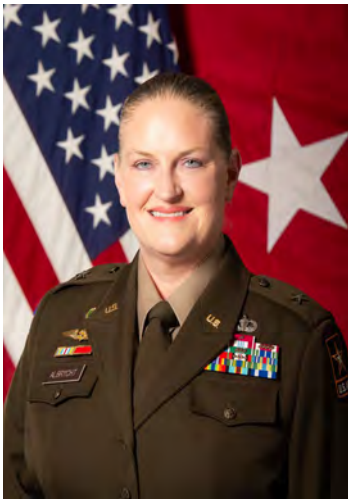

In 2015, Nikki assumed command of the newly reinvigorated 12(B) Squadron, back on the Tornado, where she was tasked with supporting the UK commitment in Iraq/Syria and providing a world-wide contingent capability. Finishing her flying tours with over 3000 flying hours and 300 operational sorties on the Tornado, Nikki was delighted to be appointed an OBE for her leadership and operational output. Selected as a J3 Air Team Leader in the Permanent Joint Headquarters leading operations in the Middle East, Nikki also acting as the Commander delivering discreet Air Operations, a role she held until attending Higher Command and Staff Course in Jan 2020.

On graduating the course, Nikki was appointed as the Station Commander, RAF Akrotiri where she led 3500 personnel in support of Middle East operations from Cyprus. After two years in command at Akrotiri she was selected as the UK Air Component Commander for the Middle East, responsible for delivering UK operations, commanding personnel across the region and acting as the UK Senior Representative in the CENTCOM led Combined Air Operations Centre (CAOC) based in Qatar. Finishing her year in the CAOC, Nikki assumed the role of UK Air and Space Attaché, Washington DC in Sept 2023.

Based between Devon and London when in the UK, Nikki enjoys sailing, surfing, swimming and socialising and likes to spend her free time travelling to far flung parts of the globe in an attempt to find the perfect wave and an expertly mixed cocktail.

BRIGADIER GENERAL CHRISTOPHER A. BROWN

Brig Gen Christopher A. Brown is the Lead Special Trial Counsel, Office of Special Trial Counsel, Department of the Air Force, Washington, D.C. In this capacity, he oversees the Department's legal representation in the investigation and trial-level litigation of covered offenses, pursuant to the Uniform Code of Military Justice, 10 U.S.C. § 801(17), and other offenses over which the office exercises authority. The Department's Office of Special Trial Counsel operates independently of the military chains of command of both the victims of alleged covered offenses and those accused of covered offenses. Brig Gen Brown reports directly to the Secretary of the Air Force with no intervening authority.

Brig Gen Brown graduated Army Basic Training in 1985 and served in the Army National Guard as an enlisted Army Military Policeman while attending law school. During his second year of law school, he was activated for Operations DESERT SHIELD and DESERT STORM. He commissioned into the Air Force through Officer Training School in 1995 and served five years as a Security Police Officer prior to completing an intra-service transfer to the JAG Corps. Brig Gen Brown has deployed to Guantanamo Bay, Cuba in support of Detainee Operations, and to Qatar in support of Operation ENDURING FREEDOM.

Brig Gen Brown has served in a variety of legal positions at the base, the field operating agency, and the MAJCOM, including as a Staff Judge Advocate twice, as an Instructor and as the Commandant of The Air Force Judge Advocate General's School. His experience covers virtually all facets of the military justice system, including Area Defense Counsel, Appellate Military Judge, and Chief of the Military Justice Division at the headquarters level. He is admitted to practice law before the Supreme Court of the United States, the Supreme Court of Massachusetts, and the United States Court of Appeals for the Armed Forces.

BIOGRAPHY

UNITED STATES AIR FORCE

BRIGADIER GENERAL RICHARD A. GOODMAN

Brig. Gen. Richard A. Goodman is the Director, Joint Training and Exercises (J7), U.S. Indo-Pacific Command (HQ USINDOPACOM), Camp Smith, Hawaii. As the Director, he develops and executes the Joint Exercise and Joint Training Programs for HQUSINDOPACOM, and USINDOPACOM Components and Subordinate forces within the Indo-Pacific area of responsibility. Additionally, he develops and implements concepts incorporated into the Pacific Deterrence Initiative (PDI) such as the Pacific Multi-Domain Training and Experimentation Capability (PMTEC). PMTEC enables Joint, Combined, and Coalition warfighters to realistically rehearse fighting in highly contested all-domain environments against peer adversary capabilities to support integrated deterrence.

Brig. Gen. Goodman entered the Air Force in 1997 after graduating from the United States Air Force Academy with a Bachelor of Science degree in Engineering. Brig. Gen. Goodman is a command pilot with more than 4,100 flight hours and 850 combat hours. Brig. Gen. Goodman has flown combat sorties in operations Southern Watch, Northern Watch, Iraqi Freedom, Enduring Freedom, Inherent Resolve and Deliberate Resolve. Rear Admiral Matt Lake

Assistant Commandant for Resources & Chief Financial Officer U.S. Coast Guard

RDML Lake currently serves as the Assistant Commandant for Resources (CG-8) and the Chief Financial Officer for the U.S. Coast Guard. In this capacity, he is responsible for all budgetary, financial and resource management activities relating to the programs and operations of the Coast Guard. As a component of the Department of Homeland Security (DHS), the Coast Guard is comprised of a nearly 60,000-member active duty, reserve and civil service workforce with an annual budget of nearly $14 billion.

RDML Lake has had a mix of Coast Guard operational and field support assignments. These included service in Coast Guard Cutters MIDGETT and NORTHLAND, as the Engineer Officer, duty at Maintenance & Logistics Command Atlantic; service as the first Sector St. Petersburg Logistics Department Head, and as the Surface Forces Logistics Center's first Product Line Engineering Chief, implementing the Coast Guard's present-day mission support business framework. RDML Lake also served as the Coast Guard Yard's Industrial Manager, where he was responsible for shipyard operations, and later as the Commanding Officer. The Coast Guard Yard is the largest industrial facility in DHS, and the Coast Guard's only public shipyard.

In addition to field assignments, RDML Lake served as Deputy of the Coast Guard's Office of Budget and Programs where he oversaw formulation and defense of the Coast Guard's annual budget with DHS, the Administration, and Congress. He later served under the DHS Chief Financial Officer, coordinating formulation and justification of DHS' $65 billion President's Budget Request to Congress. RDML Lake also served as the Assistant Program Executive Officer for Surface Acquisitions, where he led the Service's cutter and boat construction and renovation programs at shipyards throughout the United States, valued at over $30 billion. Most recently, he served as Executive Assistant to the Deputy Commandant for Mission Support. The 17,000-person Mission Support organization delivers the systems and people in support of the Coast Guard's diverse mission sets through oversight of all human capital, naval, aeronautical and civil engineering and logistics, acquisitions, information technology, and security.

Captain Lake earned a Bachelor of Science in Naval Architecture & Marine Engineering from the U.S. Coast Guard Academy in 1995. He earned Master of Science degrees in both Mechanical Engineering and Naval Architecture & Marine Engineering in 1999 from the University of Michigan. He was selected as a Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) Sloan Fellow, and earned a Master of Business Administration from MIT in 2016. Captain Lake is a Certified Government Financial Manager and Senior Acquisition Program Manager.

Captain Lake has been awarded three Legions of Merit, five Meritorious Service Medals, and several other personal and unit awards. He is a recipient of the 2018 General Tuttle Award for Business Acumen in Defense and Government, the 2010 American Society of Naval Engineers Perry Award, the 2007 Coast Guard Chief Financial Officer Award, and was awarded by the Secretary of Homeland Security in 2013 for outstanding performance of duty.

Mark D. Miles

Brigadier General, United States Army

Brigadier General Miles is a native of Lyndonville N.Y. and is currently the Deputy Commanding General of the U.S. Army Cyber Center of Excellence and Fort Eisenhower, Ga.

He received his commission in 1995 after graduating from the United States Military Academy at West Point and began his career as a platoon leader in 44th Signal Battalion in Germany where he successfully deployed his Platoon to Bosnia/Herzegovina as part of Operation Joint Endeavor for 14 months.

He next commanded A Company, 86th Signal Battalion. After 9/11, his Company deployed to Afghanistan and Uzbekistan for 8 months to install the initial communication infrastructure for Operation Enduring Freedom. He was then selected to join the faculty at West Point as an instructor in the Electrical Engineering department after obtaining a master's degree in computer engineering from Carnegie Mellon University. He completed the Command and General Staff College at Fort Leavenworth, Kan/ and moved to Ft Campbell, Ky. assigned to the 101st Airborne Division (Air Assault). He completed three deployments to Afghanistan while a member of the 101st as a Brigade S6, Division G6 Network Operations officer, and as the Deputy Division G6. He then joined the Army Chief Information Officer/G6 staff in Washington DC where he served as the current operations chief. After his time in the Pentagon, BG Miles commanded the 307th Expeditionary Signal Battalion stationed in Hawaii and Alaska. Upon completing the National War College, he returned to Hawaii as the U.S. Army Pacific G6 and then commanded the 516th Signal Brigade responsible for installing, managing and defending Army networks throughout the Pacific. He then served as Director of Operations/J3 at Joint Force Headquarters, DoD Information Networks and later assumed command of 7th Signal Command (Theater). He most recently served as the U.S. Indo-Pacific Command J6 (Command, Control, Communications and Cyber Directorate).

BG Miles' military education includes the National War College, the Command and General Staff College, the Combined Arms and Services Staff School, the Signal Officer Basic and Advanced Courses as well as the Airborne and Air Assault courses. His civilian education includes a Bachelor of Science in Electrical Engineering from West Point, a Master of Science in Computer Engineering from Carnegie Mellon University and Master of Science in Strategic Studies from National Defense University. He also has obtained the Certified Information System Professional (CISSP) and Certified Information Security Manager (CISM) certifications.

His awards and decorations include the Defense Superior Service Medal (one Oak Leaf Cluster), Legion of Merit (one Oak Leaf Cluster), Bronze Star (one Oak Leaf Cluster), Defense Meritorious Service Medal, Meritorious Service (four Oak Leaf Cluster), Army Commendation medal, Army Achievement Medal (one Oak Leaf Cluster), the Airborne Badge, Air Assault Badge and various campaign participation ribbons.

Julia Moline, P.E.

Julia Moline is a member of the Senior Executive Service (SES) and is the Deputy Assistant Administrator, Logistics Operations for FEMA's Logistics Management Directorate (LMD) in the Office of Response and Recovery (ORR). LMD's mission is to provide the right resources to the right place at the right time with the right information. Ms. Moline manages FEMA's comprehensive disaster supply chain to meet urgent needs following disasters. This includes a network of seven distribution centers and two housing storage sites nationwide which house meals, water, generators, manufactured homes, critical shelter supplies, and other commodities; air, land, and sea transportation across the US; and staging coordination and management. In addition, she is responsible for providing direct temporary housing to disaster survivors. Ms. Moline oversees over $2.5B in contracts, facilities, commodities, and equipment.

Prior to her SES appointment in 2022, Ms. Moline served with FEMA's Public Assistance (PA) Division, FEMA's largest grant program. As the Program Delivery Branch Deputy Chief and Chief, Ms. Moline was responsible for the delivery of over $50B annually in grants to state, local, tribal, and territorial entities to respond to and recovery from disasters. Her responsibilities included the implementation of a transformational change to the delivery of the program including new processes, roles, and IT systems. Ms. Moline also led the establishment of four new grant processing centers to serve disasters nationwide, growing the organization from 100 full time employees to over 750 in the span of four years. These capabilities enabled FEMA to deliver record levels of financial assistance to communities in need, including over $30B in assistance to Puerto Rico following Hurricane Maria. They also enabled a rapid response to COVID-19, during which FEMA pivoted from field offices supporting individual states to virtual operations essentially overnight. Ms. Moline led efforts to provide billions in assistance for medical care, personal protective equipment, cleaning and disinfecting, and eventually vaccination.

Prior to joining FEMA, Ms. Moline was a civil engineer with Dewberry, focused on hazard mitigation grants and guidance. She served as the lead subject matter expert for FEMA's Benefit-Cost Analysis Helpline. She also served as the lead for development of technical materials including an interactive Debris Management Handbook and industry standards for flood damage-resistant materials.

Ms. Moline holds a Science Master's Degree in Technology and Policy from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT), a Bachelor's of Science in Civil Engineering from Columbia University, and a Bachelor's of Arts in Economics from Columbia University. She has been a member of the National Council of Examiners for Engineering and Surveying since 2013. Ms. Moline published "Approaches for Locating and Staffing FEMA's Disaster Recovery Centers" in the Decision Sciences, Volume 50, Issue 5, which was named Best Paper of the Year in November 2020.
